LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

R. W. Speece, the engineer, informs us that the repairs on the Castroville bridge have been completed and the bridge is again open to traffic. Owing to the heavy traffic that now passes over the bridge—truck-loads of several tons, such as were undreamed of when the structure was erected twenty years ago—it was deemed necessary to strengthen the bridge. Accordingly it was re-enforced with new steel joists which will enable it to withstand much heavier loads. A new floor of creosoted timber was laid and the whole structure given two coats of paint. The State Highway Department expects to cover the floor with asphalt within the next 30 days. After that the old bridge should be good for many more days of heavy travel.

Mrs. Charles Metzger, who recently underwent a serious operation at a San Antonio hospital, had sufficiently improved to leave the hospital Wednesday and on Thursday left for Mercedes on a visit to her mother, Mrs. J. W. Shaw, where she will recuperate for a while before returning home to Hondo.

SEVENTH DAY IS REAL SABBATH.

Pastor W. S. Lowry Shows from Both Old and New Testaments that God Commands Saturday to Be Kept.

"Saturday, the Seventh day of the week, is the Sabbath in every instance where this weekly institution is mentioned. Whether in the Old or New Testament, reference is always made to the same identical day—the Seventh day of the week. The Sabbath is the oldest institution among men and its origin dates back to the beginning of this world's history."

So spoke Pastor W. S. Lowry in his lecture on "The Sabbath" at the Presbyterian Church Wednesday night. The speaker then held up an Old Bible almost 100 years old and read the following time table:

1st day of the week, Sunday.
2nd day of the week, Monday.
3rd day of the week, Tuesday.
4th day of the week, Wednesday.
5th day of the week, Thursday.
6th day of the week, Friday.
7th Sabbath or Saturday.

"In the Genesis record, chapter 2, verses 1-3, we read after God finished the six days' work of creation, that He rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it; because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made." The same thought is found in the Sabbath Commandment. It says:

"Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work: But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work; thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maid servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates: For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it."

"Note the facts—God rested on the seventh day; God blessed the seventh day; God sanctified (set apart) the seventh day."

"Then in the very beginning of the history of this world, God gave man the Sabbath institution, even before sin had entered to mar His fair creation. Thus the seventh day became God's blessed, and sanctified rest day, and known thereafter as—The Sabbath of the Lord thy God. Ex. 20:8-11; My holy day, Isa. 58: 13; The Lord's day, Mark 2:27; The Sabbath, Ezek. 20:12, 20."

"In the Old Testament the Sabbath is mentioned 77 times, and 59 times in the New Testament. In every instance where this weekly institution is mentioned, whether in the Old Testament or in the New, reference is always made to the same identical day—the seventh day of the week. As to which day the seventh day was and is, there is absolutely no confusion. The weekly cycle has come down through civilization undisturbed, and in all the written languages the Sabbath day has always been identified with the last, or seventh day of this weekly cycle."

"The identity of the Sabbath has never been lost as has been suggested by some. Even during the world deluge in Noah's day, 1655 years after creation, time was accurately kept as is shown by records. See Gen. 7:11, and Gen. 7:24. Almost 1000 years later when Israel was on march to the promised land, God fed them on manna which fell every morning excepting on Sabbath (Seventh day) morning. Ex. 16. As the manna fell every morning except on the Sabbath for 40 years, there could be no mistake as to which day was really the seventh day Sabbath."

"Since those days the Jewish people have preserved the identity of the seventh day, and that, too, although scattered as they are in all the habitable parts of the world. It is generally conceded by all intelligent persons, that the Sabbath was known and kept in harmony with the Fourth Commandment unto the first advent of our blessed Lord."

"At that time, some hold, the Sabbath was changed from the seventh day to the first day, in honor of the resurrection. But this claim is unfounded as the following facts will show:

"(a) Jesus Christ kept the Sabbath, Luke 4:16.
"(b) He taught His disciples how to keep the Sabbath, not only by example, but by precept. Matt. 12:1-3; 10:13.
"(c) In informing the disciples of coming events, particularly the destruction of Jerusalem, (which took place A. D. 70), Christ counseled them to pray that their flight 'be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day.' Matt. 24:20. This shows that at A. D. 70, the Sabbath was binding.
"(d) In recording the history of the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus, Luke mentions three days; Luke 23:50; 24:1, viz:
"1. Day on which Jesus died, called the 'preparation day'—corresponds to our Friday.
"2. The day in the grave—the 'Sabbath day,' according to the commandment—corresponds to our Saturday.
"3. The resurrection day, the first day of the week, corresponds to our Sunday."

"Inspiration then located the Sabbath day, according to the commandment, as the day between Friday and Sunday, which any one can see, of course, is Saturday, the seventh day."
"(e) Paul, the apostle to the Gentiles, knows of no first day sanctity. It was his practice to hold Sabbath meetings, as is shown by the records in the Book of Acts.

"Sabbath meetings held by Paul: Two in Antioch, Acts 13:14, 42-44; One by a river side in Philippi, Acts 16:12-13; Three in Thessalonica, Acts 17:2; Seventy-eight in Corinth, Acts 18:1, 4, 11.
"The Sabbath is mentioned 59 times in the New Testament, but no where is there any record that Sunday took its place.
"The late Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, made the following statement in his book—Faith of Our Fathers, p. 111: 'You may read the Bible from Genesis to Revelation, and you will not find a single line authorizing the sanctification of Sunday. The Scriptures enforce the religious observance of Saturday . . . . . !'

"The late Rev. Edward T. Hiscox, D. D. (author of the Baptist Manual,) in dealing with the Sunday question, says: 'Earnestly desiring information on this subject, which I have studied for many years, I ask, Where can the record of such a transaction be found? Not in the New Testament—absolutely not.'

"Isaac Williams, B. D., writing for the Episcopal Church, says: 'We are commanded to keep the seventh; but we are nowhere commanded to keep the first day.'—Plain Sermons on the Catechism, vol. 1, p. 334."

Continuing, he said: "The Bible names of the days of the week are: First day, second day, third day, fourth day, fifth day, sixth—or preparation day—seventh day, or Sabbath of the Lord our God—The Lord's day—My holy day."

"Sunday, the first day of the week, is only mentioned eight times in the New Testament. Six of these eight times refer to the mere fact that Christ was raised upon the first day of the week. Matthew mentions it in chapter 28, verse 1; Mark, in chapter 16, verses 1 and 9; Luke, in chapter 24, verse 1, and John, in chapter 20, verses 1 and 19."

"There is absolutely nothing in these verses which would lend strength to the claim of first day sacredness, but rather quite the opposite. For instance, Mark says: 'And when the Sabbath was past . . . very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they (disciples) came unto the sepulchre.'

"This text rather proves that when the first day reaches us, the Sabbath is past. The day before Sunday is Saturday. So Saturday is the Sabbath."

"Again, in Luke 23:54-56, we are told that after they had buried Christ the 'Sabbath drew on,' and so they 'rested the Sabbath day according to the commandment.' And upon the next day—the first day of the week—they came to the sepulchre bringing spices. Luke 24:1. The day between Friday and Sunday is here designated the Sabbath according to the commandment."

"The seventh instance in the New Testament where the first day is mentioned is in Acts 20:7. Here in the City of Troas Paul had been holding meetings seven days with the church. Saturday night had come. The boat which was to carry Paul on his journey was to sail. The brethren, however, persuaded Paul to remain with them still one more night and celebrate the Lord's Supper, advising him that he could cross the country on the morrow and catch the vessel at Assos, a seacoast town 20 miles away. This he did. During his all night meeting, a certain Eutychus fell out of the window and killed himself, and the Apostle Paul raised him up. As this is one of the Acts of the Apostles, it is thus recorded. The time is 'the first day of the week.' By Bible reckoning the first day begins at sundown Saturday night."

"The last or eighth time the first day is mentioned in the New Testament, is in 1 Cor. 16:1. Here Paul, instructing the church on systematic benevolence, advises that each person, every first day, make an accounting of his finances, and lay aside a portion. The plan involved tithing and freewill offerings."

"It is very evident from these considerations that the claim of Sunday sacredness is without Scriptural support. The Sunday institution is not a plant of our heavenly Father's planting. Individuals may not know this, but the Protestant, as well as the Catholic Church, knows there is no Scriptural authority for Sunday."

"The late R. W. Dale, D. D., a leading Congregationalist of England, wrote: 'It is quite clear that, however rigidly or devoutly we may spend Sunday, we are not keeping the Sabbath . . . . The Sabbath was founded on specific, divine command. We can plead no such command for the observance of Sunday . . . . There is not a single sentence in the New Testament to suggest that we incur any penalty by violating the supposed sanctity of Sunday.'—The Ten Commandments, pp. 106, 107."

"From Binney's 'Theological Compend' (Methodist), pp. 180, 181, we quote the following: 'There is no positive command . . . for keeping holy the first day of the week.'"

"The Catholic Church's position as given in 'Faith of Our Fathers,' by Cardinal Gibbons, page 111, follows: 'You may read the Bible from Genesis to Revelation, and you will not find a single line authorizing the sanctification of Sunday.'"

"The celebrated confession read and signed at Augsburg A. D. 1531, which was adopted by a body of Protestants, says: 'Those who judge that in the place of the Sabbath the Lord's Day was instituted as a day to be necessarily observed, are greatly mistaken.'—'Sunday,' by James Augustus Hessey, D. C. L. p. 186."

"The Episcopalian Church declares: 'We are commanded to keep the seventh; but we are nowhere commanded to keep the first day.'—Sermons on the Catechism, by Isaac Williams, B. D."

"The observance of the Lord's Day is founded not on any command of God, but on authority of the church.'—Catholic Sabbath Manual, Part II, Chapter 1, Section 10."

"Dr. E. T. Hiscox, (author of the Baptist Manual,) says in a paper read before a New York minister's conference, held Nov. 16, 1893: 'There was and is a commandment to "keep holy the Sabbath day," but that Sabbath day was not Sunday. It will, however, be readily said, and with some show of triumph, that the Sabbath was transferred from the seventh to the first day of the week. . . . Where can the record of such a transaction be found? Not in the New Testament—absolutely not.'"

"Other similar declarations from leading well-known scholars might be given, but the foregoing is sufficient. The Bible record is open. Anyone can, by investigating, see that there is no sacredness attached to Sunday, nor can its observance as the Sabbath be maintained by Bible authority."

ERRATUM.

The Commissioners of Medina County may be a tight wad bunch when disbursing the funds of the county, but our linotype is not. At the meeting of the commissioners last week an appropriation was made to pay the election officers who conducted the late election at the rate of $5.00 each. Our linotype, evidently thought the pay entirely inadequate for the arduous services rendered in enabling the suffragates and suffragists to express their preference, and increased their pay three fold—allowing them $15 for their services. However, the commissioners were obdurate, and declined to follow the lead indicated by our machine, so the election officers received but $5 for their services and not $15, as was stated in last week's paper.

Again, in mentioning the shortage of houses in Hondo, we attempted to say the jail was the only untenanted house in the town. The linotype again contradicted us and said it was the only tenanted house in the town. This statement, however, carried its own refutation, otherwise the Anvil Herald readers, instead of being greeted by the paper last week-end, would still be wondering what had happened to their favorite paper.

F. A. Brown, manager of the Ina Oil Company, returned Thursday from a business trip to Houston. While in the Bayou City he entered into contracts for the drilling of several new wells on his lease. Perhaps the most important result of his visit will be the sinking of a deep test. We understand No. 4, Ina immediately north of Ina No. 1, and now a producing shallow well, will be carried on down in the deep test. All the wells thus far drilled by the Ina Company, with the possible exception of No. 2, are producing at around 925 feet, and the sinking of a deep test will be watched with interest. We understand also, that No. 2 will be "shot", practical oil men claiming that it will then also become a producer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ney have the sympathy of all the people of Hondo in the loss of their infant son, who was buried last Sunday afternoon. He was their joy and pride for but a few hours when the death angel took him to a home in Heaven. The words of the Christ, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for such is the Kingdom of Heaven," must be a great consolation to them in their irreparable loss.

Quite a number from here witnessed the great football game between the Texas University team and the team of the A. & M. College, Thanksgiving Day at Austin. A crowd of some 38,000 witnessed the game, and they all claim they got their money's worth, as it was one of the greatest games ever played on a Texas gridiron. The University team took the contest by a score of 7 to 0.

A truck driven by Sam Moore and a coupe driven by Garland Martin collided at the crossing of Center Street and Carle Avenue Wednesday afternoon and both cars were turned upon their sides. Luckily the drivers and a young man, by the name of Fuller, driving with Mr. Moore, escaped with only a few bruises and scratches. The cars were not materially damaged.

A fire alarm about 1:00 o'clock Friday afternoon called the fire company to the Holloway Gin while the response of the fire fighters was prompt their services were not needed, as the fire which originated in one of the gin stands, and was discovered before it had made much headway, was promptly extinguished. Matches in some seed cotton that was being ginned was probably responsible for the fire.

LOUIS A. MOSHER DEAD.

News was received in Hondo the early part of the week of the critical injury of Mr. Louis Mosher, while working in the oil field at Orange, Texas. From the best information we have been able to get it seems the gentleman was struck by a heavy iron falling from the top of a derrick. The best surgical skill obtainable was employed, but after lingering several days he passed to the beyond. The deceased was a son-in-law of the late George and Mrs. Cameron of Hondo, and the body was brought here on Friday's noon train and consigned to mother Earth in the Hondo Cemetery Friday afternoon. We are not advised as to the number of survivors besides his widow. The sympathy of the people of Hondo go out to the bereaved ones, and trust a benign Heavenly Father will console them in their hour of extreme distress.

MARRIED.

Miss Della Peters of Hondo and Mr. Tom Shealey of Bryan, were married in San Antonio last Sunday morning. Rev. Dr. Lee of the Baptist Church officiating. Miss Della seems to have stolen a march on her friends, no one outside of her immediate family being apprised before hand of the near approach of the happy event. However, all join in best wishes for a joyous wedded life, and extend congratulations to the groom in winning so estimable lady for his help meet for life's journey. Mr. and Mrs. George Neumann, as far as we are informed, were the only ones from here who attended the wedding. The newly wedded couple will make their home at Bryan.

THE CONTEST IS ON.

December Farming is off the press and will be mailed to its readers. In this issue the first competition written by a pupil in the competition for the Webster's International Dictionary to be won by the winning school by the school meet next morning. It was written by Miss Hulda Neuman of the seventh grade of the Upper Quilhi school, and we are frank to say that it has set all competitors a worthy example. In the language of the day we will have to "go some" to win the honor for your school. But get it and send in your compositions. W. N. Saathoff and County Judge Forsgren and a third man of whom we will be the judges. We do not know by what standard they will judge, but completeness of the composition and originality of composition are important factors in any competition. Select any subject relating to agriculture and rural life, and your best treatment and send it as soon as ready. We hope to have several to select from for our number. Remember, no reprints will be returned; keep a copy of what you write if you wish in the event of its not being published.

The dictionary can be seen at the Hondo office by any one interested. Remember, the winner gets a five-year's subscription to Farming for yourself. Tell your teacher and the students in your school about the contest, and let's make it one of the liveliest features at next spring's school meet.

Yours for a better agriculture,
FLETCHER DAVIS,
FLETCHER'S FARMING.

ARMISTICE DAY PROCEEDS.

At a joint meeting of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, the Medina County Race Association and the Hondo Fire Department, held Tuesday night, an apportionment of the recent Armistice Day proceeds were made. In the division the lion's share went to the fire department, all realizing that assistance given to that organization is possible assistance given to every person in Hondo.

The following is the amount given each of the organizations:
Chamber of Commerce ..... $193.99
American Legion ..... 193.99
Race Association ..... 193.99
Fire Company ..... 362.04

TOTAL

$944.01

This apportionment enables the fire company to take up some obligations at the Hondo banks, that being the chief reason for the liberal division made by the four interested parties to the apportionment.

To be able to record human speech as rapidly as it is spoken represents one of the greatest achievements of the age. Stenography covers a universal field as it is absolutely necessary and is used in every business office, in every professional office, in all state and governmental offices, in all court rooms, in gathering the news of the great daily papers, in recording the speeches of our statesmen, etc. The demand for stenographers is never satisfied and no other field of endeavor offers opportunities for rapid promotion as does stenography.

Practically every one receiving this paper knows the enviable reputation of Combination Shorthand. They know that it is learned in less than half the time of other systems by other authors, that its speed is practically unlimited, that it is written and read with absolute ease. It is pronounced the "last word in shorthand."

The U. S. Government wants stenotypists at salaries $1320 a year and up. Monthly examinations are held at the Federal Building in San Antonio. Byrne System Shorthand and Typewriting offer the shortest and quickest way to these fine positions.

Because you may never expect to keep books is no reason you should not take bookkeeping. Many think bookkeeping is only to make bookkeepers, but not so; it is a training that every young person should have. The course we give constitutes the very foundation on which to build a career; whether it be business, professional farming or housekeeping. It is necessary to success, always and everywhere. Those who have wealth need it to enable them to take care of it, those who have nothing need a business training to enable them to earn and accumulate something. Everyone is involved in commercial affairs to a greater or less extent, and if you are not prepared to handle your own you are at the mercy of the other fellow. The trained person occupies a place of advantage, always.

STATUE STOLEN.
The statue of the Cross on the Cross Hill overlooking the town of Castroville was stolen one night last week. Nothing seems to be safe these days. This cross has been there for many, many years and never was there any danger of it being stolen. It is thought that the aim of the burglary was the price of Brass out of which the statue was made.

MUELLER-REINHART.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, November 26th, in the Holy Cross Catholic Church when Harry Mueller and Miss Effie Reinhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reinhart, were married, very Rev. Dean Maas officiating. A profusion of ferns were placed at intervals along the main aisle and on altar. Miss Jossie Rothe at the organ played for the processional. The wedding party entered in the following order: Miss Nettie Rieber, bridesmaid, and William Mueller, groomsmen, Miss Lena Reinhart, sister of the bride, maid of honor, followed by little Miss Laurinda Mueller, who carried the ring in a pink chrysanthemum, the bride in a pink tulle gown, met at the altar steps by the groom and his man, Eddie Mueller.

Miss Reinhart was beautiful in an ensemble costume of braided navy blue tulle. Her hat was a broad model, draped with the sheerest of French veils. She carried an elaborate bouquet of gorgeous white chrysanthemums and lace fern. The bride and bridesmaid were dressed in gray satin banded in gray tulle. The scarfs on their hats were draped over the shoulder and edged in ostrich fringe. They carried bouquets of lavender chrysanthemums. The ring-bearer wore a frock of gray crepe-de-chine, trimmed in white. Immediately after the ceremony a delicious breakfast was served at the bride's home to the members of immediate families and a few invited friends. Mr. and Mrs. Mueller left during the morning for San Antonio and Austin.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Agnes Fisher of El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Reinhart of Sabinal and Mr. and Mrs. Gerdoiff of San Antonio.

MISS JANE KNIPPA HONORED AT SHOWERS.

Mr. Arthur Rothe entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home in Seco on Thursday afternoon, November 20th, honoring Miss Effie Reinhart, a bride of the month. A color scheme of pink and white prevailed throughout the appointments, and the dainty regina afforded a pleasing floral decoration in the reception rooms. A bride and groom were portrayed on the walls drawn by the guests for games "42" and rook. Prizes of attractive Chinaware were won by Miss E. Nehr and Miss Cora Finger and presented to the honoree. A decorated wagon drawn by little Fred Reinhart in pink and white costume was loaded with many useful and beautiful gifts. Mrs. Rothe was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Jacob Reinhart of Sabinal, in entertaining about 30 guests. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, fruit salad, and hot chocolate were served.

Another compliment to Miss Reinhart was the delightfully appointed shower of Monday afternoon when Mrs. Alice Reinhart as hostess at her home. Vases of chrysanthemums adorned the spacious living-room where a flaming heart radiated a welcome warmth to spite the cold without. In a word puzzle Miss Jossie Rothe received first prize and Miss Lina Rothe won the booby. Mrs. L. J. Finger and Mrs. W. O. O. tied for first prize in a candy trying contest and Mrs. L. J. Williams tied with Miss Laura Rieber for booby. On being presented with a rake the honoree was led into the dining room where she was requested to rake hay from a huge sack upon the table. This resulted in the discovery of numerous gifts chosen to satisfy every kitchen need. Delicious sandwiches, pea salad, angel food cake and hot chocolate were enjoyed by about 25 guests. The plate favors were mint boxes designed with miniature wedding bells.

Mrs. Paul Reinhart held open house on Sunday, November 23rd, when her daughter, Miss Effie, took advantage of the occasion to display the contents of her trousseau and hope chest. A large number of friends called during the afternoon.

MISS JANE KNIPPA HONORED.

A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Jane Knippa, of Knippa, a bride of this week, by her aunt, Mrs. Jno. Rieber, at her home, on Wednesday, November 26th.

After a few games of "Rook" were played delicious refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and hot chocolate were served to the following: Mrs. Chas. Hubbard, Mrs. Mary Zinsmeyer, Mrs. Alf. Zinsmeyer, Mrs. L. J. Finger, Mrs. Nic Fohn, Mrs. Wm. Finger, Mrs. Lena Langfeld, Mrs. Louis Garteiser, Mrs. Joe Rieber, Mrs. Frank Finger, Mrs. Albert Nester, Mrs. Louis Rieber, Mrs. Ed Finger, Mrs. Ed Nester, Mrs. Aug. Nester, Misses Bess Rieber, Laura Rieber, Nettie Rieber and Hulda Nester, and Miss Jane Knippa and Mr. Bill Halle.

SOCIAL CLUB.

The Social Club held its regular meeting with Miss Lucy Rothe as hostess on Wednesday afternoon. Branches of colorful sumac were used for decorations in the living-room and harmonizing with these were autumnal designs on tallies and napkins. Two tables of "42" were enjoyed by the eight members present for several hours when Mrs. Louis Carle, Jr., was presented with a pair of ribboned shoe-trees for high score, and Mrs. A. J. Finger received a pencil for low score. A salad course of cheese and olive sandwiches, autumn fruit salad, cake and hot chocolate were served to the following: Mrs. A. J. Finger, Mrs. Louis Carle, Jr., Mrs. A. Zinsmeyer, Mrs. A. J. Boog, Misses Minnie Wernette, Dora Zinsmeyer, Jossie and Lucy Rothe.

A self-sustaining agriculture will not be possible until the abandonment of the one-crop system for a more general system of diversification of crops is added a more general farm production of live stock and poultry. The landlord who refuses his tenant the privilege of keeping pigs and poultry is standing in his own light and by his pig-headedness is denying both himself and his tenant the full share of prosperity that should be their own.

FFF
So in preparing for the year's operations, let us prepare for the least possible expenditures of money, and let's make those cash instead of credit. Let us live as much as possible at home, and while diversifying widely to make the most of this system let's take advantage of the opportunity it affords to rotate. Let's give the cotton-sick, root-rot infested field that has run too long in cotton a much needed rest by rotating to corn or sorghum while playing a trick on the corn root worm by removing the corn crop from the land that is sick of corn. Let's add a pig and a few chickens to the farm program. And let's not forget the family cow. Let's make it the first business of the farm family in 1925 to live at home.

FFF
Of course, there will be some to challenge the wisdom and the advisability of this program. And they will point convincingly to the undisputed fact that this is the day of specialization, that the farmer too must specialize if he would prosper. Let us not argue with him. Let us rather agree with him, let us emulate his example of specialization, and let our specialty be—living at home!

FFF
Throughout not a few years of close observation we have noticed that such farm specialists are the most successful farmers in the long run. Let us plan for it at this planning-time season of the year.

Functions of the Bureau of Markets

BY L. A. SEYMOUR,
Director Bureau of Markets.

In my traveling over the State I find a very small number of the people, comparatively speaking, are informed as to the activities of the various divisions of the Department of Agriculture, especially the Division of Bureau of Markets.

This Division is composed of a Director of Markets, three field men known as Supervisors, and one stenographer. The Director has charge of the office work which requires most of his time as there are many letters of inquiry and requests for the installation of State Inspection received throughout the year and which have to be given immediate replies. Often it becomes necessary for the Director to visit the territory where inspection is being done to confer with the Supervisors and the shippers for whom inspection is being done, as it is essential that he should have first hand information as to exact conditions. It is also the duty of the Director to ascertain whether the manufacturers of containers are making them to conform to the specifications enacted by the Legislature and to test them as to cubical content. The Three Supervisors have charge of the inspection work in general. Whenever inspection is asked for a Supervisor is sent to the territory where inspection is desired for the purpose of making a survey as to volume of the commodities to be inspected and to arrange for competent local inspectors whom he recommends to the Commissioner of Agriculture as being qualified to receive a Commission authorizing them to inspect and certify any and all commodities for which Standard Grades have been enacted or promulgated whenever requested to do so.

It is the purpose of the Bureau of Markets to afford whatever assistance it can to the farmers of Texas in the selection of crops that may be profitably grown in the different parts of the State and to assist in marketing the same. The most important assistance the Bureau of Markets could undertake to render the farmers at this time is in marketing profitably their various commodities. Just now the farmers are more concerned as to "how much" they will receive for what they do produce than they are as to "how much" they can produce.

The Federal Department of Agriculture, co-operating with the A. & M. colleges of the different states, has undertaken to demonstrate to the farmers how it is both possible and practicable to produce double the quantity of any commodity on the same acreage they have been cultivating. Therefore, the logical problem to solve next is to demonstrate how they may profitably dispose of the extra quantity produced. It is easier to double the production than it is to market profitably the entire extra production especially of the "Perishable Products." This Department takes the position that if the growers market only that portion of their products which will meet the requirements of Grades One and Two and leave the remainder in the fields or feed such as can be fed to the stock, they will realize more clear money than they would receive were they to market the entire quantity produced. For example: One grower has 500 bushels of orchard run peaches which he sells at $1.00 per bushel; another grower has 500 bushels of orchard run peaches which he grades so as to make 400 bushels of No. One peaches and receives $1.25 per bushel. In these transactions both growers receive the same amount of cash. But the grower who received $500 for the 400 bushels has 100 less bushels to pay for besides the expense of handling, hauling and freight on the extra 100 bushels. But much of the 100 bushels graded out can be utilized in canning, drying, etc. This is equally true of almost any other commodity.

Among the essential things to be considered by any marketing system are the following: 1st. A neat and well made STANDARDIZED container should be used as nothing detracts from the attractive appearance of any commodity offered for sale more than does an old, stained and poorly made container. 2nd. All commodities should be inspected and certified as to grade, which, if properly done, will eliminate a large per cent of the inferior stuff that reaches the market where there is no certified inspection.

In a general way, the Bureau of Markets, when requested to do so, will assist in the accomplishment of the things enumerated above. It will commission competent inspectors who will inspect and certify the grade of the commodities and issue a State Inspection Certificate in triplicate, the Original for the consignee, the Duplicate for the files of the Bureau of Markets and the Triplicate for the consignor.

This service is available for the individual shipper or grower and for any marketing organization in the State of Texas.

In connection herewith it is thought advisable to give a list of the commodities for which Standard Grades have been enacted or promulgated which follows: Beans, Beets, Berries, Cabbages, Cantaloupes, Carrots, Cauliflower, Cucumbers, Eggplant, Grapefruit, Lettuce, Okra, Onions, Peaches, Peanuts, Pears, Potatoes, Spinach, Sweet Peeper, Sweet Potatoes, Tomatoes, Turnips and Watermelons.

During the Fiscal Year, ending August 31, 1924, inspection was made on more than 7,000 cars of various commodities, the Federal Government co-operating in most of this inspection work.

The matter of living more at home opens up a wider field and one as variant as there are variations in environment. What would be one's salvation would be another's ruin with conditions reversed. Farming is, however, first of all a mode of life; afterwards, after the living, it becomes a business for profit. Therefore, the first consideration should be the production of a livelihood. The production of a livelihood calls for the production first of all of all such things as are needed for family use as can be economically produced on the farm. The average farm when made to do this, when made to produce the maximum of field, orchard, garden and pasture products, can be made astonishingly near self-sustaining. Some student of economics has figured out that a first class, properly managed garden—including the supply of beans and potatoes of both kinds—will furnish the family with fifty per cent of its food supply. The home garden needs far more attention than it gets on the average Southern farm.

FLETCHERIZED FARM FACTS

By THE EDITOR.

There are some considerations, however, that fit all individuals and are applicable to all environments. For instance, there is the matter of financing. The bane of Southern agriculture for the past fifty years has been the mortgage credit system. At the beginning of the year the farmer gives a mortgage on his unharvested crop as a pledge for his year's supplies. These supplies are doled out to him as the season advances. If crop prospects are poor he is parched and starved and made to suffer. If crops are good he is too often cajoled and flattered into extravagant and useless purchases and at the end of the year he is stripped of his year's earnings, regardless of whether they have been much or little. It should be the concern of all to so plan operations as to escape the fell clutches of so ruinous a system.

FFF
The road of escape lies in economy in purchases and the production of more of the living at home. Ready money, which enables one to take advantage of cash prices and which is apt to stimulate more prudent buying than is a charge account, helps to achieve the first. Many farmers are finding it more expedient where ready cash is not available to negotiate a loan, either from a bank or a more prosperous neighbor, and thus avoid the evils of the crop mortgage system. When the Southern farmer has the ready cash with which to purchase his needs and buys only what he needs then will there dawn for him a new day of economic independence which he has never yet known.
